9. Nationalisation of Tamil Books

Nationalisation of books brings the works of important Tamil scholars into a publicly supported nationalised corpus. The 2025–26 policy note records that nine scholars' works were nationalised during 2024–25, with royalty payments totalling ₹91.35 lakh, and that 189 scholars' works had been nationalised to that point.

Website ideas

- Searchable nationalised-book library.
- Scholar profile → works → year → recognition.
- Timeline of nationalised Tamil literature.
- Collections by literature, research, social thought and language studies.
- Digital links to libraries and reading resources.

Source / verification: Tamil Development Department website contains a dedicated Nationalised Books section.

10. Dream House Scheme

The Dream House scheme is a welfare-oriented initiative for eligible distinguished Tamil writers. The 2025–26 policy note describes housing support through the Tamil Nadu Housing Board or prescribed house construction, subject to scheme conditions.

12. Sorkuvai — Tamil Lexicon for the Modern Era

Sorkuvai is one of the most technologically relevant initiatives in the Tamil Development ecosystem. The 2025–26 policy note describes it as a platform intended to compile Tamil words from the Sangam period through the AI era, with English translations and public access.

Metric	Reported figure
Tamil words uploaded	15,33,669 up to March 2025
Technical words coined	51,622 through 178 expert meetings
Young Lexicographer programme	200 college students selected annually
Young Lexicographer beneficiaries	1,000 reported as benefited

Why it matters for Rajmohan

- Connects classical Tamil vocabulary with modern science and technology.
- Can support AI, translation, education and public-service interfaces.
- Creates a pathway for young people to participate in language creation.
- Can become a flagship digital-language platform under a minister with a digital-media background.

13. Technical Tamil, Terminology & Translation

Modernising Tamil requires technical vocabulary for law, energy, registration, forensic science, administration, technology and other domains. Expert committees review departmental terminology before it is added to Sorkuvai.

Translation Wing

The Translation Wing handles government notifications, Assembly papers, Governor's addresses, Budget speeches, press releases, inquiry reports, annual reports, election manuals and policy notes.

Future-facing editorial opportunities

- Government-approved glossaries for AI, cybersecurity, climate science, biotechnology and space.
- Digital Tamil terminology datasets.
- Tamil terminology resources for developers and AI systems.
- Bilingual administrative style guides.

These are website strategy recommendations, not claims that every item has already been officially announced.

15. World Tamil Sangam & Global Tamil Engagement

World Tamil Sangam in Madurai is designed as a hub for global Tamil engagement, including international research conferences, Tamil scholars' forums, overseas Tamil book resources and recognition for global Tamil contributors.

- Connect Tamil scholars across countries.
- Support international conferences and seminars.
- Create access to Tamil books for overseas communities.
- Recognise global Tamil contributors.

- Encourage youth and student participation in global Tamil scholarship.

16. Tamil University, Thanjavur

Tamil University, Thanjavur is a major Tamil research and higher-learning institution. Its ecosystem includes manuscriptology, literature, languages, science and cultural research.

- Manuscript and inscription research.
- Comparative Dravidian language studies.
- Folklore and cultural studies.
- Performing arts and fine arts research.
- Tamil cultural-development projects.
- Academic chairs and endowments.

A future-facing strategy can connect Tamil University to digital humanities, computational linguistics, AI-assisted manuscript preservation and international research collaboration. These are recommended directions unless separately announced.

17. Departmental Financial Scale — 2025–26 Baseline

The 2025–26 Tamil Development Policy Note reported a total budget estimate of approximately ₹129.03 crore across the listed institutions.

19. Early Administrative Review

Reports from May 2026 described a high-level review meeting covering the functioning of Tamil Development and Information/Publicity. This can be framed as an early signal that the minister began his tenure by reviewing institutional delivery.

- Review of existing schemes and implementation status.
- Departmental performance and delivery tracking.
- Language, culture and information as linked public-service functions.
- Modernisation of communication practices.

Because detailed minutes were not reproduced in the sources reviewed, the website should not invent specific decisions from that meeting.

20. AI-Generated Content — A New Tamil Governance Issue

In June 2026, Rajmohan said AI-generated videos, graphics and audio intended for government release should undergo review by the Tamil Development Department after errors were identified in AI-generated promotional content.

Why significant

- AI can generate fluent-looking Tamil while still producing factual, linguistic or cultural errors.
- Government communication requires high accuracy and public trust.
- Tamil Development can act as a language-quality gatekeeper.
- This creates a possible human-in-the-loop model for public-sector AI content.

Future framework — editorial recommendation

- Tamil AI quality checklist.
- Human review before publication.
- Fact-checking and terminology verification.
- Sorkuvai-linked terminology resources.
- Audit trail for review.
- Special checks for cultural and historical claims.

These recommendations should not be published as completed government policy unless formally notified.

21. Pending Awards — Administrative Priority

During the June 2026 Coimbatore government exhibition, Rajmohan stated that pending Tamil Development Department awards would be distributed soon in consultation with the Chief Minister.

- Event photographs and speeches.
- Year-wise award archive.

22. Tamil Thaa Vaazhthu — Language Identity & Public Protocol

Rajmohan publicly emphasised Tamil Thaa Vaazhthu during the first weeks of the new administration. In May 2026 he said he had pressed for Tamil Thaa Vaazhthu to be played first at government events.

On 10 August 2026, the Tamil Nadu Legislative Assembly unanimously adopted a resolution calling for Tamil Thaa Vaazhthu to be sung first at programmes conducted by educational institutions, universities, government offices, public sector undertakings and other public bodies. Rajmohan supported the resolution.

For the website, present this as a government/Assembly language-policy action rather than a personal scheme.

23. World Tamil Conference — Global Vision

The proposed World Tamil Conference is the strongest future-facing Tamil Development initiative linked to Rajmohan's 2026 tenure found in this research. July 2026 reports described an internationally distributed conference model and consultations with Tamil scholars and diaspora communities.

- Bring together Tamil scholars, researchers and academics across countries.
- Hold academic and classical Tamil sessions.
- Create cultural exchange and knowledge-sharing spaces.
- Collect overseas Tamil community feedback before finalising the programme.
- Expand the conference model beyond a single location.

Recommended website architecture

- Conference vision; international partner locations; call for papers; scholar participation; diaspora engagement; classical Tamil sessions; Tamil technology & AI track; translation and publishing track; youth track; cultural programmes; conference archive.

- Publisher support.
- Public libraries.
- Nationalised books.
- Tamil classics and new Tamil writing.
- Research publications and translations.

25. Wider Public-Policy Role — FCRA Resolution

On 11 August 2026, Rajmohan moved and spoke on a Tamil Nadu Legislative Assembly resolution asking the Union government to withdraw the Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Amendment Bill, 2026 in its then-current form and consult stakeholders.

This was not a Tamil Development scheme, but it demonstrates his wider role as a cabinet spokesperson and legislator. Place it under a 'Legislative & Public Policy' section rather than under Tamil Development schemes.

39. Closing Editorial Summary

The strongest narrative for Rajmohan Arumugam’s Tamil Development portfolio is not simply ‘Tamil promotion’. It is the modernisation of Tamil as a living public language — one that works in government, education, literature, research, media, technology and global communication.

The department already possesses a substantial institutional foundation: official-language implementation, awards, book nationalisation, writer welfare, translation, lexicography, Sorkuvai, research institutes, Tamil University, World Tamil Sangam and youth programmes. Rajmohan’s early 2026 tenure adds emphasis around digital communication, AI-generated content, public Tamil identity, awards delivery and international Tamil engagement.

A high-quality portfolio website should combine three stories: the heritage Tamil Nadu has inherited, the administrative work the Tamil Development Department is already doing, and the future-facing agenda suggested by Rajmohan’s public statements and early actions.

Most importantly, the website should distinguish established departmental schemes, Rajmohan’s verified tenure actions, government-level resolutions, reported future plans and editorially recommended ideas. That distinction will make the final portfolio credible, durable and easier to update.
